FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SportChassis Celebrates 20th Anniversary!

Summer 2017: Clinton, OK – SportChassis LLC is proud to announce its twentieth year as the industry leading developer of cross country hauler trucks. In a market where only the strong survive, SportChassis LLC has achieved two decades of innovation and steady growth.

SportChassis LLC began truck manufacturing operations in 1997 when they developed the first aluminum body hauler bed, designed for a heavy-truck frame. This new model, known as the Ranch Hauler, with its sleek aluminum fuel tank covers and iconic design began leading the industry in an entirely new direction! With sports car styling and luxury class amenities, SportChassis set the precedent for what a truck manufacturer does to create comfort for its customers.

Early success of the SportChassis product line indicated a growing demand for a safe long-lasting truck with the comfort and styling of a sports car. Seeing the opportunity, SportChassis LLC developed and introduced complementary products to suit the various customer's needs. Wanting to be more than just a conversion company, SportChassis LLC took the necessary steps to become a certified vehicle manufacturer. The SportChassis vehicle line is now registered and recognized by the US Department of Transportation as its own line make.

SportChassis' vision to build the finest line of heavy duty pickups in the world has pushed the standards of a cross country hauler to new heights. SportChassis has proudly innovated the heavy duty pickup market by designing their product around a multitude of luxury features. The sleek looking pickup, with its quiet air ride cab, fine leather seating, and state of the art voice/touch screen multimedia system, is the unrivaled choice for those who want the very best.

SportChassis LLC maintains a dealer network throughout North America. Each dealer has extensive experience in different market segments including equestrian, transportation, recreational vehicles, motorsport enthusiasts, law enforcement and other specialty applications. Our staff works hard ensuring your SportChassis meets all your needs and exceeds your expectations.
